

The IEDP Spring Seminar topic is HATE CRIME

Institute of Equality & Diversity Professionals

Topic: Government 'Action Against Hate' crime initiative: society and the organisational impact

2nd March 2017

3:00pm - 6:00pm

Octavia House | 50 Banner Street | London EC1Y 8ST

Hate crime is not a new phenomenon however there has been a sharp increase since the Brexit vote and recently the Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC) have predicted a further surge this year. A hate crime is defined as a criminal offence against a person or a property motivated in whole or part by a bias against:

- Disability
- Race
- Religion
- Transgender identity
- Sexual orientation

This seminar will discuss the current UK status on hate crimes, society's reaction, the government response and how to manage the impact on organisations and their people.

Keynote speaker: Paul Giannasi

Head of the Cross Government Hate Crime program

Second speaker: Fiyaz Mughal

Faith Matters

Third speaker: Stephen Brookes MBE

Disability Hate Crime Network

Please RSVP to info@iedp.org.uk with the subject line 'Spring 2017 Seminar' or via Eventbrite: <https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/the-iedp-spring-seminar-hate-crime-tickets-31539443324>

Free for IEDP members
£10 for non-members